APX Environmental Management Account™

Powerful Solution Suite for Complete Environmental Asset Management

Environmental liabilities are the largest new factor in corporate risk management, and environmental commodities represent what may be the fastest growing new commodity market. Taken together, these represent a new corporate reality for global business. For leading firms, the time to wait is over and the time to prepare is now. Firms need one convenient place to manage their corporate environmental compliance risk and their portfolio of environmental assets. That's the APX Environmental Management Account™.

Transparency, transactional efficiency and risk management are all essential for business success in the new carbon economy. And new corporate infrastructure to enable these elements will be required.

A recent Gartner survey (April 2009) of 626 enterprises found that most firms are still unprepared for the carbon economy. More than 80% of North American and Asia-Pacific firms and two thirds of the European firms surveyed had no market infrastructure in place to manage carbon assets or their current and future carbon liabilities.

Preparing for the realities of carbon-constrained business is no longer optional. Corporations today face the uncertainties of global environmental regulations and the complexities of rapidly developing environmental markets. Managing environmental assets and liabilities in this environment is difficult. And supporting the stakeholders in environmental management across your enterprise is a significant challenge. APX aims to make navigating these issues as efficient and convenient as possible. We are pleased to be the first to offer firms a single place to manage their entire environmental portfolio, with a solution that is purpose-built for the environmental marketplace.

A Comprehensive Solution Suite

The APX Environmental Management Account provides a complete suite of solutions for environmental asset management – from implementing an asset acquisition strategy to conducting and settling transactions; from portfolio valuation and tax reporting to managing your environmental “balance sheet” of assets and liabilities.

It includes a single source for global carbon project information, access to your multi-registry portfolio of environmental offsets and allowances, and tracking of environmental contracts, including over-the-counter and exchange based contracts. It also includes critical business services such as comprehensive portfolio management and valuation, connectivity with transaction platforms, post-trade settlement, credit delivery facilities, and compliance and tax reporting services. Tracking of environmental liabilities in an environmental balance sheet will be provided.

Business Benefits

- A framework to implement and manage your environmental asset strategy across your enterprise
- A single resource to manage, transact, and acquire renewable energy and carbon commodities
- A single view of environmental instruments across jurisdictions, registries, and programs
- Comprehensive portfolio valuation
- Increased transaction transparency and reporting
- Reduced internal administration and tracking costs
- Streamlined management of environmental assets and liabilities

The APX Environmental Management Account includes:

Registries for compliance and voluntary markets that issue, track, transfer, and retire carbon offsets and allowances, renewable energy certificates, and energy efficiency certificates
- Full Global Support: 24x7 help desk support and on-line inquiry tracking and resolution

Why an APX Environmental Management Account?

APX is uniquely qualified to provide these services because APX tracks and manages more environmental assets than any other infrastructure provider. With more than 2 billion certificates under management and 1300 global firms as account holders, APX market infrastructure sets the standard for ensuring integrity in environmental markets.

The APX Environmental Management Account is powered by the most technically advanced environmental market infrastructure, developed over a decade of experience. The world's leading carbon standards, and all North American renewable energy markets already rely on APX market infrastructure.

As an independent and trusted provider of infrastructure solutions, APX is fully committed to the highest degree of market transparency and a level playing field for all market participants. We do not make markets or take principal positions in environmental transactions for the markets we serve.

Look to the Leader

APX Inc. is the leading infrastructure provider for environmental and energy markets in renewable energy and greenhouse gases, including Renewable Energy Certificates (RECs), energy efficiency and conservation certificates, carbon offsets, and greenhouse gas emission allowances. The company is the solution of choice for every renewable energy market in North America and greenhouse gas markets worldwide, including The Gold Standard, Voluntary Carbon Standard, and The Climate Action Reserve. APX has major office locations in New York and California.
